Take three steps closer,
If you know,
How it feels to be hurt,
Take a lethal dose of tragedy,
Till your conscience can't see straight,
I don't want to be alone,
But I can't go on anymore.

I never asked for love,
To find out where you are,
I never asked to fall,
Into your open arms.

Into your heart,
Where I got lost,
Into your heart,
Where I belong,
Into your open arms,
I never asked for love.

Late nights on the phone,
How can you shout loud enough,
To reach the rooftops,
To shake the dust off,
A tired heart,
Should have been hiding down below,
It's never easier to hold on.

I never asked for love,
To find out where you are,
I never asked to fall,
Into your open arms.

Into your heart,
Where I got lost,
Into your heart,
Where I belong,
Into your open arms,
I never asked for love.

Nobody wants to hurt so bad,
Nobody wants to feel like that,

Nobody wants their heart in someone else's hands,
But no one really wants to spend their nights alone,
Without someone to call their own,
Nobody wants their heart to go unbroken.

I never asked for love,
To find out where you are,
I never asked to fall,
Into your open arms.

Into your heart,
Where I got lost,
Into your heart,
Where I belong,
Into your open arms,
I never asked for love,
To find out where you are,
I never asked to fall,
Into your open arms.

Into your heart,
Where I got lost,
Into your heart,
Where I belong,
Into your open arms.

I never asked for love.

I never asked for love.
