There's nowhere to reach you there's nothing to say things don't always have to be this way for you

Whatever the purpose, what brings on the change there's no way to teach you, this song you can change

I know you've been hurting
It's written all over your face so just surrender how healings won't embrace for once

So quit your drowning in sorrows feels like you're running in place and inside you just want it all to change for good

There's no hope for tomorrow
It's all frozen in space
Can you remember how your life was replaced?
Now its gone....

Whatever the reason, how much pain will you take?
It's not too late for your ending there's not much left till you break...

You're driftin' through life and you'll never blink (who they want you to be 'till you can't see)
You're along for the ride and you never freak (In the end, you will die...)

Are you listening? X4

What's happened to me?
Everything falls through this can't be real
I can tell no more...

Please help me, I'm fallin'
Fallin onto, again

It feels like I'm drowning inside
And this is my life

It's over again
Please come to my rescue and everything is breaking down, I know

Please help me, I'm fallin'
Fallin onto, again
It feels like I'm drowning inside
And this is my life

It's all falling down
It's all coming down
Look around
It's all falling down
It's all coming down
What I've found
We're all falling down,
we're all melting down...

It's all over
I still need it
Its all over

Please help me, I'm fallin'
Fallin onto, again
It feels like I'm drowning inside
And this is my life

Please help me, I'm fallin'
Fallin onto, again
It feels like I'm drowning inside
And I'm dying tonight
