Baby, baby. You cannot protect me. but I've heard of one who can. and he does not take sides tonight. baby, baby. if this is the ending. then we'll find out how it ends. we'll find where we begin again. i just wanna make you feel alright. hold me in the shelling of the night. chorus: let them come for us. let them have their way with our names that they drag thru the mud. should the murder us. we will live again in the clouds that cover the sun. baby, baby. if this is eternity. then it must be made of love. how else could i hope in all this death? baby, baby. tonight i have no enemy. i have held my fellow man. looked into his dying eyes i just wanna look into the light. hold me in the shelling of the night. chorus.
