Maybe, I'm not the right one to hear.
And maybe, I'm not the right one to hold you forever.

Yeah I know, I'm far from being so right.
And I'm done, with words to tell you.
How I would do anything.
To make it right for you.

When everything falls apart.
When life seemed to be so wrong.
And no one is left to be there.
I would stand.
I would stand up for you.

I see, how hard you tried to survive.
On a string, of hope in your breaking heart.
It will be just fine.
Trust me just hang on there.

When everything falls apart.
When life seemed to be so wrong.
And no one is left to be there.
I would stand.
I would stand up for you.

What else could I say to tell you?
Someone needs you, someone awaits you tonight.
What else can I do to show you?
You're never alone, you won't be alone.

When everything falls apart.
When life seemed to be so wrong.
And no one is left to be there.
I would stand.
I would stand up for you.
