Why is it nobody ever wants to be alone?
An easy way, I feel, to be mislead.
But you'll find another way to cease the battle in your head.

Is this the absolute?
The final quest for your piece of the truth.
But your sincerity always seemed so out of reach.

You think your hating is a weapon,
But your hatred is a curved blade.
The harm we do, we do to ourselves.
An eye for an eye will leave this whole world blind.

Without a heart to feel, we're nothing but hollow
bodies.
When will we realize, that everything we search for is inside.
Without a heart to feel, we're nothing but hollow
bodies.

Stuck in a crowd of the steady indifferent,
So hopelessly blissful but blind.
All hope is for something greater than this.
And you'll take anything that is left in me.

Over and under the truth,
While there still searching for proof.
That is not my reality, just leave me be.
While the absurd provide their clarity and reason,
The reality of your realization prevails.
Go!

By all means, your continuity is valued.
Life live, be free,
And let you become what you wish to see.
