While we're abused, our intentions are misconstrued.
When in fact we're in the middle of a sickening story,
Simply lead to play the fool.

There is defeat in sight, with every word that I write.
Creating nothing but a miserable cycle.

My friends maintain that everything is fine.
Skeptical of all that surrounds us, misdirected by the walking blind.
Could you not consider, they couldn't even matter in this world?
After all the battles within ourselves,
I don't understand it
The battles within ourselves.
But a resolution lies in sight,
If we reject it from our heart and mind.
Hope that somehow you find your way.

I won't be left standing not knowing where I'm going and I'll make my own
Way to a better place.
I won't be left standing not knowing what I'm doing and I'll make my own
Way to a better place.
Everything begins with the resolves to take the first step.
Waiting on a sign to tell you when wont help you to forget.
Everything begins. without action, nothing changes. we remain the same.
Without our change, this place won't be without action,
nothing changes,
What we see in our dreams, will remain.
We'll remain the same.
We will stay, we will change.
