

House Vs. Hurricane "The Only Virtue"

Visit "The Only Virtue" on MotoLyrics.com

If you seek your eternal sunshine, you must first look inside yourself.

If your mind is clouded, you'll never see what lies in front of you.

These ties were always fake. Put together to make you feel safe.

It's your armor that's choking.

How protected do you really feel?

The path that you've chosen will leave you with nothing.

(Your humility will falter)

It's your dying thoughts that will fail you,

The only redemption discard everything you were.

(Your humility will falter)

It's your waking thoughts that will save you,

The only redemption remake everything you are.

How many steps away do you think you could possibly be?

Your in control of who you wanna be.

Your only saviour will be yourself.

(With all we have, We'll chain ourselves to what we know)

This will never be the same again. You will never be the same again.

This will never be the same again. How could you ever be?
