I've got three striped squares I can't get away from.
No four walls to call my own.
I feel like doing this is bad for my state of mind.
But one thing that I have learned is that it's inspiration, for throwing the ink around.
All this time I feel I've gained so much, but got here by losing it all.
We all know where this comes from.

Life won't wait for me to get back on both my feet
again.
It just likes to sucker me into the new, and then flip the switch on everything I do.
Cause when opportunity knocks you have to let her in.

I've begun to live my life with the beast glued to my hand.
Too many nights I go to sleep when i don't choose to.
There isn't anything that we can do.
Now see I've made this bed now it's time for me to lay down.
All this time I feel I've gained so much, but I'm going to lose it all.

We all know where it's headed.

Life won't wait for me to get back on both my feet
again.
It just likes to sucker me into the new, and then flip the
switch on everything I do.
Cause when opportunity knocks you have to let her in.

It's obvious I've got the will to do this.
You better believe I've got the skill to do this.
I'm strapped up and taking this life to war.
I will never let down my new family of...

Four controllers and four good friends, we'll keep it real until our lives all end.
Whatever was I thinking? The best times of my life are just beginning.

Life won't wait for me to get back on both my feet
again.
But it doesn't matter to me anymore.
Just know that I'm going to get what I came for.
Cause when opportunity knocks you have to let her in.
