

Houston Calls

"The Better Part Of Valor"

Visit "The Better Part Of Valor" on MotoLyrics.com

(This) Life we've forsaken
Not out of spite but of honesty
Lips sealed, our tongues tied, this secret's safer than you or me
This isn't how it should end
Or should it end at all?
Cause every now and again
I wait for you to call

I'd wait all my life for you
Cause if this was meant to be
Than it's all I can do
I already know it's true
If you still have a heart to steal
Then I will steal it from you

Stolen devotion
A poor excuse to avoid your eyes
Broken, unspoken
Promises all amount to lies
So where do I go from here?
We've said our last goodbyes
A broken smile left to roam these night skies

I'd wait all my life for you
Cause if this was meant to be
Than it's all I can do
I already know it's true
If you still have a heart to steal
Then I will steal it from you

Did you ever think that we could really survive
You said we'd last two years
You buried us alive
And all the softest sighs and all the lover's pleas
They're just a postscript now wrapped in parentheses

Visit Houston Calls page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.