Take a look inside of me, there's nothing
Fate came and took it all away
I try and try to grab on to something
But it all just slips away, slips away

Take a look inside of me, there's nothing
Blue skies have turned to grey
The nightmare in me just isn't stopping
And my dreams have slipped away

Every time I look at your face another part of me just dies.
Covered my eyes with your deceit, but now I've come to realize.
That all the truth you feed me is all your sin wrapped up in lies.
And Now I'm left here with this Empty, Nothing, Forever...
I Hate You

Take a look inside of me there's nothing
Feel my soul begin to fade
There's no time left the end is coming
And now my life has slipped away, slipped away

Every time I look at your face another part of me just
dies.
Covered my eyes with your deceit, but now I've come
to realize.
in lies.

And now you left here with this Empty, Nothing, Forever

For All Eternity
