

How It Ends "Still Bleeding"

Your time has come

Break the mold, push the limit
Question the world, question the world
Life tried to push you back Strength is getting up when you just want to stay on the ground

The fight won't stop

Still bleeding

Fear in the eyes of the enemy
The powerful now conquered
The walls falling form, your, path
The fight won't stop

Still bleeding

Pushing me through the hard times, is a pain that I hold
dear
I'll never lay down to die, I'll never give in to fear Walls that stand before me, I punch with all my might
I hold my fists with pride, still bleeding from the fight

Still Bleeding
