She's something special,
Something that I can fight for

My heart is cold
But these feelings are so warm.

So tell me girl, tell me girl
What are you waiting for?

You told me not to let go
I know, I know, I know,

You told me not to let go
I know, I know, I know,

You told me not to let go

The sound of silence slapped me in the face,
I walk towards the corner, push the hair out of my face.

And turned on her radio,
Turned on her radio,
And heard her voice screaming.

I know, I know, I know,
You told me not to let go

I know, I know, I know,
You told me not to let go

The room is spinning round and round,
And as she hits the ground
I turn up the sound
And the radio was still playing her voice
Was still playing her voice

Through the walls
Through the ground
I've lost the sound

Turn on her radio
I turned up her radio

The room is spinning round and round,
And as she hits the ground
I turn up the sound
And the radio was on a different station
And now I must play it
