You got the socket and I got the plug
I am the floor and you are the rug
I got the rhythm and you got the beat
We feel it shake us from our souls to the feet

And you know I love you
You know I love you

You got the metal and I got the dye
We make a structure that no one can deny
I need you and you need me
I need your honey like a flower needs a bee

Yeah, you know I love you
You know I love you don't you

No one is an island on that you can depend
A person on his own is a sinking ship
It will be that way till the time will end

Now don't you worry when the things get tough
We'll stick together through the smooth and the rough
You're the steam engine and I am the tracks
Roll over me I'll be rolling right back 'cos

You know I love you
You know I love you
You know I love you
