"Bringing Me To Life"

Well honestly I'm weaker now
Than I've ever been
I hate to admit
I'm shamefully hesitant
In this my bitter my cold
I surrender my hope
When I gave into the lie again
And I believe in the untruth
And now I need you
Still something says
Hold on through the moon light
Don't let go, don't let go
Something says Hold on through the moon light
Don't let go, don't let go

And if I could breathe you in
I'd be sure to hold my breath
Cuz you are like oxygen
Bringing me to life
So here I stand once again
Open me and come on in
Cuz you are like oxygen
Bringing me to life

Its painfully evident that eternity is life
And I'm still a child tossed by the waves again
So quick to deny
Faster to hide
Still something says
Hold on through the moon light
Don't let go, don't let go
Something says Hold on through the moon light
Don't let go, don't you let go

And if I could breathe you in
I'd be sure to hold my breath
Cuz you are like oxygen
Bringing me to life
So here I stand once again
Open me and come on in
Cuz you are like oxygen

Bringing me to life
You're bringing me to life

And if I could breathe you in
I'd be sure to hold my breath
And like oxygen
You're bringing me to life

And if I could breathe you in
I'd be sure to hold my breath
Cuz you are my oxygen
Bringing me to life
Open me and come on in
Bringing me to life
Come bring me to life
Bring me to life
Bring me to life
