"End Of Me"

I was the one to call the shots
A dreamer dreams heart and soul Answered only to myself Never giving up control

Until the one day that brought me to my knees and I would never be the same Once upon a time the story goes,
I laid it all down and let it go to lose it all, to lose it all I took a step of faith and said goodbye and everything I had I left behind
to find true life well all I longed for I found finally
at the end of me

Now they're gone those wasted days,
The selfish soul, the emptiness.
Love moved in; they've been replaced that old life has been laid to rest

And now the new me is stronger day by day I will never be the same
Once upon a time the story goes,
I laid it all down and let it go
to lose it all, to lose it all
I took a step of faith and said goodbye
and everything I had I left behind
to find true life
well all I longed for I found finally
at the end of me

and like an answer to a prayer Jesus you were there calling me to live, to die, to give, to get and I'll never be the same ooooohh

Once upon a time the story goes,

to lose it all, to lose it all
I took a step of faith and said goodbye
and everything I had I left behind
to find true life
well all I longed for I found finally
at the end of me

It's the end of me!
