

Building 429 "Fighting To Survive"

Visit "Fighting To Survive" on MotoLyrics.com

Crying on the inside and it cuts me deep
?Cause I know you're gonna smile when I fall
I can't help but feel the fear when I'm standing here
?Cause I know you're gonna laugh if I have to crawl

But can you see my desperation?
You don't know my situation

Because I'm fighting to survive, can't you see it in my eyes?
Oh, please don't push me anymore
And I'm still fighting to believe that there is hope for me
Somewhere beneath the very least of these

And I can't help but feel ashamed when I know the truth
That there was more than I surmised inside your heart
I want to make it go away but you still bear the proof
My words burnt through your skin and left you scarred

I didn't see the desperation
Somehow I didn't see your situation

Because I've been fighting to survive, I didn't see it in your eyes
But I won't hurt you anymore
And I'm fighting to believe that there is hope for me
Somewhere beneath the very least of these

I'm fighting to survive, can you see it in my eyes?
Well, please don't hurt me anymore
And I'm fighting to believe that there is hope for me
Somewhere beneath the very least of these

Beneath the least of these, oh
Beneath the least of these, oh
I'm fighting, [Incomprehensible] fighting
Fighting to survive

Visit Building 429 page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

