In the middle of the night,
When I finally close my eyes,
With the memory of the day,
Running circles in my mind,
The voice that calms the seas,
Is whispering to me,
Putting all my fears to rest.
Yeah, You put them all to rest.

Then I realize that You're with me in the fight.
When I stand, when I fall, when the lights go off,

You You're singing over me.
You're singing over me tonight,
With every star that's in this midnight sky.
You, You're singing over me.
You're singing over me tonight,
And my heart is overcome with Your song,
with Your song. Yeah!

From the depths of my soul,
You are calling me,
To the evidence of You,
In all Your Glory.
From the iris of an eye,
To the mountains majesty,

Putting all my doubts, to rest.

Then I realize that you are always by my side
In my worst and best, in this beating chest,
When I'm living, dying, always finding,

You You're singing over me,
You're singing over me tonight,
With every star that's in this midnight sky.
You, You're singing over me,
You're singing over me tonight,
And my heart is overcome with Your song,
with Your song.

You You're singing over me,

You're singing over me tonight,
With every star that's in this midnight sky.
You, You're singing over me,
You're singing over me tonight,
And my heart is overcome with Your song,
with Your song .
Yeah!

I'm singing along.
Yeah, I can hear it,
And I'm singing along.
