You took my hands and led me wrong..
Now I'm back and I'm sad.

I cannot stand there,
I will not watch that,
I won't be left here alone.
Your phony values,
Your stolen pep talk,
You took the stars from my eyes.

You told me.
You fucking told me.
"Everlasting friendship."
You lied.

You told me.
You told me.
"Everlasting friendship."
I trusted you.

Your hatred an excuse against all that happens to you.
Something to fall back upon and I see your stories.

Your hatred and excuse against all that happens to you.
Something to fall back upon and I see your stories.
You wanted to end the fight my son,
While you attack the defenseless when their guards
are down.

It's in the past, leave it behind.
I don't hate you, but I'll speak my mind.
You wanted to break the walls, now face up to what you built.
You're a hypocrite and your double standards create your hate.

Face the lies, you're a hypocrite my friend.
Yes, you are.
