As i watched it all begin...
I was there.

Im caught
In the Middle
Of my own reality.

Where nothings for and nothings against,
Why don't you wake-up and you'll see the lies and the pain and the oppression.

I could never understand,
All that is good,
And all that's supposed to be.

And I, I could not escape the lies.
My reality.

Im caught
In the Middle
Of my own reality.

I could never understand,
All that is good,
And all that's supposed to be.

And I, I could not not escape the lies.
My reality.

Oh my God oh my God,
I held myself down.
I was trapped in my own mind.

Im caught
In the Middle
Of my own reality.
