Into the chaos, into the night
It's something different, it's somewhere far
Into the distance, into the light
There's something happening, it's in our side

With no direction, there's nothing wrong
Yeah, we can wonder all night long
Into the chaos, into the night
It's something new again, it's somewhere far from here

Temptation lies inside my heart
We'll never know if we don't start

Give me a reason, we're in control
When everything that matters, could be our fall
Into the chaos, into the night
There's something happening, it's in our side, our side

Temptation lies inside my heart
There's nothing wrong if we don't start

Temptation lies inside my heart
We'll never know if we don't start

These neon lights will ever fade
There's nothing twice just once today
