Built to spill
you are pleased precariously temporarily filled
you will spill until lower expectations momentarily chilled
because at the time it seemed like an acceptable deal you feel
you feel like you are on the verge of something real on a role and built to spill this is how you'll always feel it's no big deal I'm ashamed of you my friend would you please
would you please I'm to blame for this my friend
would you please
would you please built to spill carry out your function then occasionally filled
you will come alive to something real then realize you're built to spill this is how you'll always feel it's no big deal
