I follow by your shadow
Caught up in the rain
The broken generation
Still live a dream in vain

Then comes a sacred feeling
When they dim the lights
We hope their heartaches heal
When we walk down tonight

We are different, we are different
We are different, we are different, oh

Times of human weakness
The hour of despair
It's time we shared the secrets
Goodbye solitaire

Then comes a sacred feeling
When they dim the lights
We hope their heartaches heal
When we walk down tonight

We are different, we are different
We are different, we are different, oh

We are different, we are different
We are different, we are different, oh

--- solo ---

We are different, we are different
We are different, we are different, oh

We are different, we are different
We are different, we are different, oh
