When I wake up in the morning, same old time
Believe it or not, baby, you're the last thing on my mind I might miss the conversation, there was nothin' left to say
Staring at the ceiling, just can't live your life that way, no baby

Now I'm living by myself without a care in the world
I never think about you
And I'm happy as I've ever been, yeah, well, I pretend that I am
I never think about you

I don't remember, you know I don't care
I don't even remember the color of your hair
I used to think I love you, it was just a fantasy
I quit pretending that you mean anything to me, no baby

Now I'm living by myself without a care in the world
I never think about you
And I'm happy as I've ever been, yeah, well, I pretend
that I am
I never think about you

I don't remember how many times I cried Looking for reasons that we said goodbye, no baby

Now I'm all by myself without a care in the world
I never think about you
And I'm happy as I've ever been, yeah, I pretend that I am
I never think about you
