You have a long term plan
Which will reward you in the end
You work from nine to nine
There is time for little else

You're young enough to cry
You're old enough to comfort yourself
You're young enough to lie
You're old enough to see through yourself

So, if you fall apart
I know that you've tried so hard
To make it happen
So, if you break your heart
I know that you've had it all
All you wanted
And see before the rain there is a cloud

You have a busy schedule
You mustn't fall in love today
This woman at the client
You can't let it affect your work

You're young enough to cry
You're old enough to comfort yourself
You're young enough to lie
You're old enough to see through yourself

So, if you fall apart
I know that you've tried so hard
To make it happen
So, if you break your heart
I know that you've had it all
All you wanted
And see before the rain there is a cloud
