I know there's a place I see
Your spirit keeps haunting me
And I never worry, 'cuz I do believe
You will find me here

I'm floating through space and time
Your love is all over the line
Why can it be when all hope is gone
Then you turned around there without a sound

Baby, heaven's missing an angel
Did you fall from the sky like an angel from above?
Your moonbeam smile and the warmth of love

Heaven's missing an angel
So much more than a woman to me
Finally love came to set my heart free

I'm high on a silver cloud
I see your face in the crowd
And I know that it's only a matter of time
Your love will come to me, your love will come to me

Baby, heaven's missing an angel
Did you fall from the sky like an angel from above?
Your moonbeam smile and the warmth of love

Heaven's missing an angel
So much more than a woman to me
Finally love came to set my heart free
Came to set my heart

Heaven's missing
Oh

Who am I to regret the past
I live and die and I want it to last
But if I was to leave you I want you to know
I'll be by your side, 'cuz you're my soul and pride

Baby, heaven's missing an angel
Did you fall from the sky like an angel from above?

Your moonbeam smile and the warmth of love

Heaven's missing an angel
So much more than a woman to me

Heaven's missing an angel
Did you fall from the sky like an angel from above?
Your moonbeam smile and the warmth of love

Heaven's missing an angel
So much more than a woman to me
Finally love came to set my heart free
So much more than a woman to me
Finally love came to set my heart free, free

Set my heart free, free
Heaven's missing [Incomprehensible]
