I don't know what to say when words get in the way,
Of what I'm feeling.
Now, it's not up to me to tell you how to be,
Only that I'm sorry.

In your heart, a love is crying,
For what you want in me.
In my heart, a love is dying,
And drifting out to sea.

(CHORUS:)

I don't wanna hurt anymore,
But it doesn't mean that I don't love you anymore.
We don't have to cry anymore,
Like a song out of time,

When the words don't rhyme.
We're down to our last one more time.

Don't be thinking it's all you,
I've made my mistakes too,
It's part of the growing.
But to grow in different ways means someone's going away,
Someone is knowing...

The time for starting over,
Is long overdue.
And in time we will discover,
That the love we had is true.

(CHORUS)
