The night so young
You could lose, you could gain
Your temperature's rising
Better pull into the outside lane

You always say
You're not the jealous kind
Then you tell all your friends
That I've got one thing on my mind

I've played this scene before
You had one foot in the door
But there's always plenty more
Don't try to use me

I don't depend on you
I've got my own friends too
I'll never be your wife
Don't try to use me

I've played this scene before
You had one foot in the door
But there's always plenty more
Don't try to use me

It's cruel but it's true
I don't depend on you
It's cruel but it's true
Go back to the end of the queue

I've played this scene before
You had one foot in the door
But there's always plenty more
Don't try to use me

I don't depend on you
I've got my own friends too
I'll never be your wife
Don't try to use me

I've played this scene before
You had one foot in the door

But there's always plenty more
Don't try to use me

The night so young
You could lose, you could gain
Your temperature's rising
Better pull into the outside lane

You always say
You're not the jealous kind
Then you tell all your friends
That I've got one thing on my mind

I've played this scene before
You had one foot in the door
But there's always plenty more
Don't try to use me

I don't depend on you
I've got my own friends too
I'll never be your wife
Don't try to use me

I've played this scene before
You had one foot in the door
But there's always plenty more
Don't try to use me

It's cruel but it's true
I don't depend on you
It's cruel but it's true
I don't depend on you

It's cruel but it's true
I don't depend on you
