unearthed form archaic catacombs raptured in curiosity a vessel of its iniquity releasing its animosity 500 score monstrosities let loose from a broken shell relentless unperceived nightmares an amancipated hell stoop not down therefore unto the darkly splendid world where in continually lieth a faithless depth and hades then wrapped within the clouds delighting in unintelligible images a light ever rolling abysmal continual spray of constant light of horrid afterlives of those who have passed before him formless as it enters his soul chest lacerated enroping with his viscera what crime have i committed what unknown god have i transgressed realization of the disfigured - distarted body now mutilated - taking on new form inscrutability to what was unleashed derogating the name of god i am clothed in terror

i have found fear the pain of augmented limbs my rationalism is seared the black earth is now my home wanderers from the abyss share my mind horror exist only for the mortal feelings decay with time a wind has risen the dark water stir the loam turns cold fragrance of souls

judgement growing weak i've passed the seven gates deriding of my homeland now a servant to a mad god the priest - brothers, the watchers - enemy, the cosmos - mother, the elder - the gods the tempter is my father, my body has liquified formless angel forever, the faceless gods are smiling i am clothed in comfort, i have found love the pain regeneration, my thoughts are seared the black earth is now my home, wanderers from the abyss taste my love fear exist only for the mortal, because now i exist as fear
