I dont wanna talk about it
I dont wanna hear what you say
How you find yourself another one
Accusing me of what may come
Ill never be your shadow
I wont come in to your way
Cause Ive found a love of my own
And a place that I can call my home

I dont really care about the games you play
Look in to my eyes
Cant you see these tears are real
Im crying

Then she told me bout the angels
And of love thats untrue
But I never noticed in my life
That my savior was you
I dont care about tomorrow
All I need is one night
To hear you in the darkness
And see the lovelight in your eyes

I had myself believin
Id carry the weight of the world
I was blind for a long, long time
But truths like bird, it needs to fly
With this hand on my heart
I swear by all that is sacred
If Im not a man enough for you
We find out what true love can do

Like a morning light you came in to my life
And this feeling inside
Makes me cry out your name
