He walks the road to school, his knees trembling in fear.

He's reminded of last Friday after class.
They don't understand a different sexual preference
So he becomes the target of their ignorance.

And it's unsafe just to be when being Involves something different from them.
It's unsafe, a life of fear.
As long as ignorance prevails he'll get pummeled everyday.

While walking through the halls (FOR HIM)
He's constantly feeling the threat (WE WAIT)
No one stands up for him (SIT DOWN)
Teachers just look the other way (SHUT UP)
His grades suffer in school (TIME FOR)
But not nearly as much as him (BEATINGS)
Beaten up in the yard (YOU'RE SICK)
Secretly, he's hoping for death (GO DIE)
