"Gone Too Far"

We will not spiral down
Ill do whatever I can to stop that
Three and a half years
Of emotional rollercoasters
Is enough to decide that some things?
Are worth the effort spent
Finally it's a realisation
That dawned on both of us and
With enough effort and knowledge
Of the past we don't need to follow
The path lay out by others
And it's gone too far
The words that guide us
Take your voice away
And I guess we can still chastise
Ourselves for taking too long to discover
What everybody else already knew
And all that was needed was the opening
Of the blinkered eyes long enough to Register what was in front of us all along
I can't remember worse times
Than when we were apart
We won't stumble
Like we did before
