So here you are my friend
I've been expecting you and now you're here
You took so long to drive from wherever back into my life
And...

You are the one that I had left behind
You are the part of me that I denied
You are the harmony I lived without
And now you're here

You could of made it harder
You could of left it longer, longer

So now we're back again, some would say to us its always been
Hard to find hard to find
Out of time out of time
And...

You are the one that I had left behind
You are the part of me that I denied
You are the harmony I lived without
And now you're here

You could of made it harder
You could of left it longer, longer, LONGER

So there you stood, open arms
Waiting for me to lean into
So there you stood, open arms
Waiting for me to lean into
So there you stood, open arms
Waiting for me to lean into
So there you stood open arms
Waiting for me to lean into

You could of made it harder
You could of left it longer, longer, LONGERRRRRRR!!
