what you spoke in a whisper i said more with my silence if you degenerate into this hole that you dug yourself felt no fear as to thinking that the words to describe would just come to me to break this mold that you set yourself
you will wither slowly

i find no faith in god helps i moved away from all safe things for trust that's lost is all forgiven yet tears that flow have no meaning what you said in a whisper i

felt no fear as to thinking that
to break this mold that you set yourself
you will wither slowly
