In case it's taken all i hoped for we lay here starving trying to dig out let's lay down to rest name it anything to cater for greater need for nothing and i'm glad that it passed that's all for us so we climb upstairs the past so nearly tip-toed on us we forge our place where so trading the contents of my open heart the toll is too high gives much crying out to break up and console all i dreamed of exact the fading song for nothing we see clearly we see clearly now you've been feeling moreover than certain than you ever have before you've never felt so lucky we see clearly we see clearly now
