You failed the first great test
And time waits for no man
Would you try to digest?
Make your stand

Forgone, forget the lecture
So long, when did you make your choice?
Stay calm take a hold of yourself
And wound the others with your false denial

When your calls appreciate
You work against the other man
And when all you do is take
And don't thank

Forgone, forget the lecture
So long, when did you make your choice?
Stay calm take a hold of yourself
And wound the others with your false denial

You'd release the burden if you gave up and left
You'd release the burden if you gave up and left
You'd release the burden if you gave up and left
You'd release the burden

You'd release the burden if you gave up and left
You'd release the burden if you gave up and left
You'd release the burden if you gave up and left
You'd release the burden if you gave up and left
