

Hundred Year Storm "Coming Back"

Visit "Coming Back" on MotoLyrics.com

Coming back shouldn't be the hardest part It's been 5 weeks since you laid your heart right next to mine
how can hurting feel so wrong and be so right
I remember us when the space was so air tight
I don't think it's your fault
I don't think it's something we've done
It's our destiny that brought us here
Coming back shouldn't be the hardest part
I know it hurts you so deeply when I walk in to the dark
Coming home I want to see you smile
When I come back from such a far a distant land
I know you know I give it all I can
