So much to lose, and all we can do now is wait, but don't be afraid
The water's still rising, but here we'll be safe from The wind and rain
All I ask is that you keep holding on And please don't forget me just cause I'm gone Yesterday we had it all
Be strong and take heart and tell me you'll never let go
All we have left is each other, a promise, and hope So far to go, and I know it feels like sometimes we won't last the night
It's hard to keep smiling, but focus your eyes on fields and skies
Take my hand and continue pressing on And please don't disagree just cause I'm wrong
