Tell me something would you
You're so mean how could you
Treat me like I'm nothing
Think it's okay, okay
I was so confused
And now I'm being used
And you just go on thinkin'
That it's okay, okay alright

Thought I could save it then you tricked me baby
You made it sound like there was something I could do
I jumped right through
You lied again but you're so convincing
You made it sound impossible but true
Hooray for you

I opened my heart to you
I really thought I knew you
Everyone knows my secrets
That's not okay, okay
Oh you wanna tell me something
But it's always something nothing
Never make me think
That it's okay, okay alright

Then again you got me baby
You made it seem that there was something I could do
I jumped right through
You got it down to a science neatly
You made it sound impossible but true
Hooray for you
