"Never Mind The Rain"

When you're busy just surviving all the demons behind your eyes and when even the familiar seems like the devil in disguise don't let the world come down so heavy when you know you're not to blame don't let the crowds make you so lonely don't you know that we're all the same?
so never mind the rain
never mind the rain
let the mirror cry today you're no human sacrifice and the hardest rain will wash away as the sun begins to rise

don't you know that we're all the same?
