V: Bob

Can't explain the way I feel
It's all so clear, it's all so real
Some kind of game, they're all the same
Don't need it 'cause I'm always to blame

You're freaking out all the time
You've lost touch with reality again
And what you do when you're alone
Don't try to call me, just leave me alone
Don't try to call, don't try at all
Forget my number, forget my name
Don't try to call, don't try at all
I'm never home when you're all alone

Well, now you say that you're OK
I don't buy it when I see you around
You fight and suss, what's the fuss
I just told you, forget about us
