"Whatever Mould"

He lives in his imagination,
with those friends of his very own.
He doesn't get along with the outside world,
he'd rather be alone.
Sometimes, when it's late at night,
he starts to wonder why
(the plans he made can happen,
so all he does is cry).
Hi parents, they can't understand
why their son, he turned out wrong.
He runs away from all the pain
and forgets them when he's gone.
He'd rather be all by himself
because his plans, they seem the best.
He finally gets the nerve one day,
and now life becomes a test!
Whatever you want, whatever you do, wherever you go,
whatever you say.
' Mom and dad, I'm sorry. Mom and dad don't worry. I'm not the son you wanted, but what could you expect? I've made my world of happiness to combat your neglect
