I am the superman
The great enemy of evil
I fight for goodness
Fight for what's right
The superman with super powers
The super good against bad behavior
I've always been the superman

When I was a boy, I wanted to be a fireman
Run through the flames with my super helmet
Pump up water and fight the fire
Outflames and evil smoke Smash things up with a big hammer and rescue all the good people
The proper citizen

I wanted to make my mom proud of me
She was my super woman
I wanted to be a doctor
Fight against diseases with my knowledge
Make my mom immortal
Help everybody who's in trouble or feeling bad

I wanted to be an officer, a policeman with a blue uniform
Put bad people into jail, keep crime off the streets
Chase gangsters with my super car and shoot'em up with my bullets

I wanted to be a great man, like my father
A good man, taking care of his loving family... wife and son
Come home every day after work and read the newspaper
Build a house in the countryside and go fishing

Now I got it all...
Well, my wife doesn't love me anymore, but that's OK
I've got the others plans already
I have it all figure out
I am the superman
Fight against the bad

One day, I'll fly away... like a butterfly
High up into the sky, and I'll touch the sun...

The sounds of silence...
