i hoped beyond all hope that time itself would end leave me in blessed agony, my morbid dreams to tend hide away, in ecstasy, inside my darkened room in the arms of sweet despair, a never ending gloom

I hoped that pestilence had massacred this land
A legacy of hopelessness unto starving man Left to my solitude to revel in my pain
The last bastion is exiled, exiled in my shame Exiled in my shame

I hoped the holy ghost has last been exorcised Cast adrift eternally in sick and feeble minds, Left to his solitude in cruelly twisted chains

Hang him high, hang him in his chains Chains

Broken hearts never heal,
Twisted bones poke through skin, Unburied dead at ever turn Feel the cancer burning within Burning deep within Burning

i hoped beyond all hope that time itself would end for me Leave me in the hands of doom

i hoped beyond all hope that time itself would end
repeat

Broken hearts never heal,
repeat

Pray to live or die Despondency alive behind my eyes Hybernoid, the last be destroyed
