Time has told that you're cold, bought and sold Gotta level the load, listen to the tale that's being told
Time has come, see you run from the gun Must drink to get numb while you're sittin' in the morning sun
Time will tell, hell's bells ringing loud Gotta duck from the buck shot fired at the fucking crowd
Time turns, rhyme burns as you learn
The little lessons in life treat whom you meet right Time'll see just what you can be Try to flirt but you hurt, growing like a disease
Time tells, hell's bells ringing in my eardrums Here it comes, here it kiddy-come-comes Time for the devil as the level goes up Gotta stick to get stuck, got me drinking from the poison cup
Time for crime, 'cause it's all in the mind Gotta change the design when I'm signing on the dotted line

Time goes on, yesterday is gone
Life moves on, live it before it's gone

Time moves, rhythm grooves Give them all of what's been removed You ain't got nothin' to fucking prove Time escapes thru the gates, from the love and the hate
Debate all over fate all over lobster and steak Time sweeps, rhyme creeps up, up the leg of your mind
As the rhythm takes you from behind Time-time, tick-tock as you keep on running from the clock
Between a hard place and a rock
Time gives as you live from your hand to your mouth
Is that really what life's about?
Time travels, unravels all the mysteries of your life
Discover wrong from the right Time brings, rhyme sings, rings from the beat

While you're sleepin' on the fucking street
Time tocks, mind mocks, get shocked Hear the click of the clock before all time stops

And now you try the denyin' with all the cheatin' and lyin'
Were never beaten' but cryin' to all the friends you be buyin'
You're spreadin' like a disease
And you're never pleasin', just teasin'
And no more reason for treason and no more huggin' and squeezin'
The fashion for the distraction reaction to the retraction
The trashin' all in a fraction Your words speak louder than actions You're always goin' and goin' and never showin' you knowin'
And never wantin' to growin' and never learn from my flowin'
