

Hypocrisy "Edge Of Madness"

I realize I never should be born
In this world where money talks
The honesty of systems can be won
When the power of "Dollar"
Is running their lives

We're closing our eyes
How could we be so blind
That we can't see what's going on?

The world's on edge of madness
It's burning up with frustration
We're never satisfied, it's never enough
We can't get enough

Trying hard to make an extra buck
To roll ourself in luxury
We're scared to hit rock bottom all alone
So we grab whatever we can get

Blinded by the dollar sign
A disease that burns through our mind

The world's on edge of madness
It's burning up with frustration
We're never satisfied, it's never enough
We can't get enough

The world's on edge of madness
It's burning up with frustration
We're never satisfied, it's never enough
We can't get enough

It's never enough

I realize I never should be born
The honesty of systems can be won

The world's on edge of madness
It's burning up with frustration
We're never satisfied, it's never enough
We can't get enough

The world's on edge of madness
It's burning up with frustration
We're never satisfied, it's never enough
We can't get enough

It's never enough
