Beneath the dampened soil lies a terror from the past The rotting corpses of the damned where evil has been cast
A deathly curse surrounding all the ancient graves and tombs
The time has come the time is now: release unearthly doom

Lightning strikes, evil night, start the dreaded turmoil Rotting flesh appears now from above the loosened soil
Rising from the underworld, destroy the human race Unleashed upon a dreary night to spread unholy grace

From hell they rise , with screams and cries At death's own will
In frantic rage they set the stage
They start to kill

Evil Invaders: Death deception in the night
Evil Invaders: Corruption as they fight the fight Evil Invaders: Spreading out to take command

Evil Invaders: The future of mankind at hand

Mutilated bodies now employed upon the streets
Searching around, seeking out the human flesh to eat Resurgence of the damned will our cities fate defeat?
Unless we're strong and earth defend we'll fall beneath their feet

The evil force grows stronger as the terror grows intense
The panic stricken population builds up its defence
A sudden rude awakening as cities fall to dread Amidst the human slaughter, tell us how we kill the dead
