Can't you see them coming?
Cannot see the sense of me
All of them decide
Deciding our ups, downs and misery

Addicted to fleshly skin
Enough for me to swallow and take in
Two worlds collide
One with all the, one with all

This is the way we serve
It's deadly when it's being wiped away
Both too precious to behold
And praise the new

The new world is here to wipe out our lives
The new world, we can't survive
The new world left God in everything and everyone
The new world does not include us

Everyone will feel a need to pleasure
To wicked the future race
There will be no more beliefs
All religion will be known

All religious ways
Losing their ability
They'll erase all our memories

No more scriptures
No more lies
No more fucking lies

This is the ways we serve
It's deadly when it's being wiped away
Both too precious to behold
And praise the new

The new world is here to wipe out our lives
The new world, we can't survive
The new world left God in everything and everyone
The new world does not include us

God, in decay, just making all the rules
Earth, finally, forgot the tombs
Hell is where I'll be after my eyes can see
Preceding our, we are the misery

Hate throughout the end of genocide
Smell of burning flesh inside all, everyone
Death is coming down, now when we will survive
We're gonna die

The new world is here to wipe out our lives
The new world, we can't survive
The new world left God in everything and everyone
The new world does not include us

The new world is here to wipe out our lives
The new world, we can't survive
The new world left God in everything and everyone
The new world does not include us
