"The North Wind"

Beware of the North Wind
It will take you away
Butchered the same
Terrified, swept up your body
You will be left to rot like the leaves

You will stop breathing
As you pass away
Suffocate
Your skin turns blue

The eyes...

The eyeballs roll in the back of your head
The North Wind will pick you up and take you
On a journey to hell

Wind of evil swept over the earth
Killing of all the living souls
War accross the globe gather around for the storms
Lords of Death watching it through the works of evil

The earth will be dark and dead
No existence of life, just cold and emptiness

You will stop breathing
As you pass away
Suffocate
Your skin turns blue
