Drifting empty outer space
Looking for euphoric end
Searching for the perfect end

Running for you useless
They'll try to break your empty mind
Leaving all your crew behind

Coming to reality
You're sucked into the time warp

Burning, without the use of fire
Your emotions getting higher
Can you take it anymore?

Really enough to keep you down
Your life has just begun
Will this ever end?

Coming to reality
You're sucked into time warp

Digging up the missiles from your silo line
Computer images came
From the bomb inside

Project system turning for a burning flesh
Everything is dead

Try to end this like you choose it
But you will always, always, always
To never get away

Burning for a hole inside
You know they've got the further way
Will this ever end?

Coming to reality
You're sucked into the time warp
