The sky turns black
We're all about to? close
Dreams are reality just the same
Just another crucifixion
One more cross nailed to the ground
The beginning of the end
Has just begun

Light's getting dark
The real pain's yet to come
Call out the magic words
Forever chained to the flame
Another thing turned to ashes
Blessed by the dark

When the candle fades
The pain closing in
When the sun turns black
You release your blood
And fade away

Just candlelight
You take your life and dwell in emptiness
Running away from the pain

Bodies with empty souls crying to be free
But this is just the beginning of the end
The sins is catching up with you
Tortured by the past once again

The time stopped but nothing's forever
What comes after death? It never ends

You release your blood and fade away
Just candlelight
You take your life and dwell in emptiness
Running away from the pain

You release your blood and fade away
Just candlelight
You take your life and dwell in emptiness
Running away from the pain

You release your blood and fade away
Just candlelight
You release your blood
Fade away
You release your blood
Fade away
